

Once upon a time there was a dog named Billy, he was a clean and very sensible dog.

Billy had a brother named Bobby, he was always naughty and always getting into trouble. Sasha their owner, had blue eyes, brown hair and was very nice. She loved dogs. They had just moved to London and were one big happy family.

One day Sasha had to go to work Billy and Bobby were locked in the back yard. Bobby found a little hole under the fence and began to dig. "Hey, Billy look!" said Bobby. "What is it?" replied Billy. "A tunnel! Let's go and explore!" Bobby said excitedly, jumping up and down, dribble going everywhere. "I like it here, We can see the big ben and the London bridge," Billy said, Wiping the slobber from his face. "Well I'm going." said Bobby, "bye." "I better come so you don't get lost!" Billy, you came!" said Bobby Slobber going everywhere again. If we are going to do this, we have to find food first. "OK" replied Bobby.

So Bobby and Billy went to find food. Bobby spotted something, IT'S FOOD LET'S GO!! They both began to run to the food. Yum Yum I can Smell it from here." said Bobby.

"Me too said Billy. It's a hotdog!! Yum

Yum. They gobbled it right down to the last crumb. "Where shall we go now" said Bobby. Billy was feeling like a puppy again. I know, I know! How about we go to the Big Ben." said

Billy starting to have fun. "Yes" said

Bobby. "lets go," So Bobby and Billy went to the Big Ben. Bobby said wow isn't this amazing, "Yes it is Bobby!"

"Said Billy amazed. It wasn't long before they both realised they were lost. Billy shook himself, surprised he had let himself be so silly. Now, to find our way home he thought. So they backtracked to the Big Ben.

Thanks to Billy how remembered what direction the Big Ben is from his back yard. It's this way said Billy So Billy and Bobby ran to the direction Billy said to go. While Billy was running he said we need to get there before Sasha gets there. There's the tunnel lets go so they ran up the tunnel and into to back yard and Billy put a plant pot in front of the hole so sasha didn't know and Billy was playing with the ball and Bobby was jumping up and down dribble going everywhere. Bobby said Billy Sashas coming so Billy and Bobby sat down excitedly and waiting for sasha to come.

Sasha barked Billy and Bobby. Sasha said Hi Billy, Hi Bobby. They were one big happy family. The End and as for the Heggie family.